PRECINCT HQ

Barricaded hostage situation

OBJECTIVES:

- Arrest Main Suspect: Jack Daniel aka JD
- Neutralize all threats.
- Safely evacuate all police officers.
- Rescue any civilians.

Jack Daniel, aka 'JD', is the leader of a local terrorist group.
The group has claimed responsibility for several violent attacks and strikes.
So far, they have evaded police by rapidly moving from safehouse to safehouse.

The search the the fugitives has gone on long enough! Two weeks back we finally found what we suspected was Jack Daniel's current location.
Surveillance of the premises has confirmed that it was Jack Daniel who was living there.

Last week, Jack Daniel was finally arrested and charged with terrorism, murder, attempted murder, and arson, among other crimes.
He was transferred to the Police Precinct, and was awaiting trial while in custody.
However, with a plan to free their leader 'JD' , his buddies attacked that police precinct.
This occurred one hour ago.

Dispatch received an automated alarm signal, reporting an emergency situation.
A nearby patrol car quickly responded, arrived at the scene, and entered the building.
Unknowing of the circumstances, the suspects surprised the officers.
The officers attempted to withdraw, but were fired upon, and seriously wounded.
Fortunately, they had made it to the street, though bleeding heavily, where a second police car had just arrived.
Paramedics were on the scene within minutes, and the two injured officers were evacuated.

Shortly after that, dispatch received a second alarm
Reporting that a prisoner had been removed from his cell, without authorization.
We believe this was ‘JD’ being freed from his cell.
Since then, the Precinct's surveillance system has gone offline, so the situation inside is unknown.
The only useful thing we could retrieve from it was a picture of one of the suspects.
Shortly thereafter SWAT was dispatched.
We have arrived at the scene, and are prepared to enter the building.
All attempts at communication by our negotiators have been refused by the suspects.
The status of the Precinct staff, and other prisoners is unknown, so SWAT is going in immediately.

Gear up people.

ENTRY:

The Police Precinct has multiple levels.
Lvl 0: Basement, where the cells and the morgue are.
Lvl 1: Lobby, where the police reception is.
Lvl 2: Upstairs, where the office, interrogation room, and surveillance room are.

The suspects have assaulted the Police Precinct very quickly and violently.
They have barricaded the main door in the Lobby, and gained control over the rest of the building.
The only remaining option is the backdoor, in the basement.
Highground reports indicate that it is not guarded, but be careful.

For security reasons, we don't have the floor plans of the building.
The only existing floor plan is inside the Police Precinct itself.
The suspects have probably found it by now, and will study it to search for a safe exit.
We do not believe that they are ready to flee the scene yet,
But if they choose to take the backdoor, you have to be sure that you're there before they are!

It's a very old building, but it was built to be as as firm as rock, and still is today.
So be sure to take C2 with you.
The surveillance system of the Precinct is offline, so the suspects will not be able to use the cameras against you.

This is the backdoor at the basement level.
Normally it's secured with a coded keypad lock,
However, someone inside unlocked the door.
We don't know the reason.
Maybe they are preparing to flee,
Maybe someone wanted to take a break…

SUSPECTS:

Jack Daniel aka JD:

Sex: Male
Descent: Caucasian
Eyes: Green
Hair: Dark brown/Black

'JD' wasn't too happy about being locked up.
And now that his buddies have brought him
new clothes and some weapons, he is up for a fight

Consider 'JD' to be armed and extremely dangerous.

Terrorists:

The only thing we could retrieve from the surveillance system, before it went offline, was this pic.

It shows a heavily armed suspect.
As you can see,
this suspect is wearing light body armor,
a hockey mask to cover his face,
and a full automatic rifle.

How many friends he has is unknown.

CIVILIANS:

Police officers:

The Police officers are probably taken hostage.
And since the suspects have refused
all attempts at communication,
we don't know their status.

We believe that they are in serious danger.

Visitors:

We think there are some visitors in the Police Precinct.
People who were coming to complain,
to visit a prisoner,
or to see their beloved ones in the morgue.

Because of the quick assault, they didn't got a chance to escape.
So they are still in there.
